Royal Caribbean: (Mariner Of the Seas)

August 14, 2020 (3 Night Cruise) Less sea days and one extra port than the other cruise.

Departing - Orlando Florida

Ports of call – Nassau, The Bahamas

Cococay, The Bahamas

The only cabins that can be held in a group are double occupancy cabins, all cabins that will have 3 or more guest would have to book at the prevailing rate therefore paying the regular deposit. Rates are quoted including taxes and fees but not gratuities. The Gratuities are $43.50 per person and still needs to be applied.

Interior Cabins – $776.54 ($299.00 +$79.27tx pp)– Plus your gratuities

Ocean View Cabins - $876.54 ($349.00+$79.27tx pp)– Plus your gratuities

Balcony Cabins - $996.54 ($419.00+$79.27tx pp)– Plus your gratuities

There would be a $50 deposit per cabin. If group is held all deposit must be up- to- date. Eight cabins are required to hold the rate so if eight cabins do not have the deposits by the due date, the entire group will be canceled. The initial deposit would be due by March 1st and is non-refundable. This date may can be adjusted. The Final Payment would be due May 15, 2020. You would have 90 days before your cruise to cancel without penalty. Anything outside of the would forfeit funds.

The dates for both cruises are just dates I have seen before school time and appear to be the cheapest rates. There could be other destinations also but I was just looking at price range. If interested in any of the two and have suggestions, discuss them.

This is just quick Pricing to compare the rates.
