Product description

Sleep Comfortably Wherever You Are

This lightweight camping mattress is just what you need to get a good night's sleep so that you wake up fresh to enjoy nature. At 75 inches long and 24 inches wide this sleeping pad will enable even the tallest person to wake up a 'Happy Camper'. At 2.5 inches thick and rated to support an adult up to 350 pounds in weight, this sleeping pad will be suitable for anyone from small children to full grown adults. It's even great for sleeping on your side!

The interconnecting air cells are the best technology to support your body contours, and also provide insulation from the cold ground with an R-value of 2.1 to make sure you aren't woken by the cold.

Go Anywhere with this Lightweight and Durable Sleeping Pad

Made of tough yet lightweight TPU Coated nylon, it's strong enough to withstand the inevitable sticks and stones that you'll come across outdoors. The TPU coating is abrasion and water resistant, meaning that even if the ground is damp, the pad won't absorb moisture and neither will you!

Weighing only 14oz it's so light and small you won't notice it in your pack. This is perfect for saving space and weight in your pack if you're hiking. You'll even have room to take a few if you need to take more than one pad as it packs down to 8 x 3.5 inches.

Easy to Inflate

The pad also inflates easily, requiring only 9-10 breaths, meaning you can also use them for cushions for the kids as well as for sleeping. The 2-way valve allows you to blow it up at your own pace and adjust to your liking - maybe firm and stiff for a grown adult or slightly softer for a lighter child.

Guarantee

We are so confident you'll love your new sleeping pad, if you're not happy, we'll replace it or refund your money no worries!

★★★★★ Fantastic compact inflatable mattress - I'm going camping

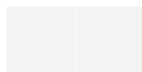

Reviewed in the United States on January 3, 2020

Verified Purchase

I was surprised at how compact and light it was when it arrived. Its certainly appears to be made from hard wearing materials comes in a simple compact bag.

My family are avid campers and we tried it out today and found it pretty comfortable. Here is a few pics of my son trying it out after a dip in the pool.

Inflation was easy with not too many breaths required to get it fully inflated.

The denier looked really thin so I was skeptical at first. But this pad has survived 8 nights of use on the floor of a van with dirt, sand, and tiny rocks and debris and come out unscathed. It is not self-inflating, but 15-20 good breaths blown into the one-way valve should do the job. At least the one-way valve keeps every blown breath in the pad. I'm satisfied. For $10, this is a great pad.

Pretty comfy at first, but the two I received both lost air over the night. We are average weight folks. I have had other products like this, which cost more, but we're even more comfortable and lost no air.

Bought for 6yo and 6ft 200lb man. Husband raved about it. Kid slept on cot with mat and husband slept on ground in desert with highs of 38-45° F overnight. Will see how they hold up after multiple trips.

It would not inflate. I would return but it got accidentally thrown away during our move. Regretful for wasting money.

Very easy to travel with, takes up very little space. Inflates quickly and deflates even faster. Huge difference in comfort when you have to sleep on the ground camping without having to inflate a giant mattress.
