JAMES BROWDER + NICOLAS WILSON

We have known each other since our college days at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas. After stints in the military for both of us we ended up at the Harvard of the south where a mutual friend, "Kirby" Bohn Dorman introduced us, and we joined the SHSU Bearkat rugby club. As rugby family we've always stayed in touch but were happy to reconnect after both relocating to Colorado. We have both been employed by the energy industry and recently affected by the economy, which is why we decided to make a difference and start our own company. In 2020 there was a growing need for hard working individuals in the health and safety product industry and "SANITYzer for All" was born.

How We Have Evolved:

We started to focus on the current need for more hand sanitizer products during the worldwide Covid-19 pandemic. As we started working with customers, we realized that they needed PPE and cleaners for home and business needs, so we evolved from a hand sanitizer bottling company to a sourcing and distribution company as well. The world had changed, and much more support was needed. When everyone around us was losing their jobs and stores were sold out of hand sanitizer, cleaners, toilet paper and PPE, we realized that we could start a company to fill those needs.

Who Do We Serve:

We serve hard working people who need a little more sanity in their lives. That includes small businesses, schools, first responders, factory workers, healthcare workers, teachers, sports teams, churches – and everyone in between who wants to work with a smaller personal company.

What We Offer:

We are two owner/operators who do everything for the company. We offer you our full support, we care about your needs, and we will work harder because it means more to us.

Our Values:

We all have family and we feel strongly about helping our family and yours stay safe and healthy. We feel strongly that our business should give back to the community, teachers, first responders, healthcare workers, veterans organizations, animal shelters and our favorite sport, rugby. The musician Pat Green's song "What I'm For" is who we are and more.
