These bags are very heavy duty and durable. Created a nice family room in our garage and we entertain a lot. Which means one thing. We need ice. These bags come in great. Fill them up and store them in the freezer and you are ready to have folks over. You will not regret buying these bags.

Love the cinch tie

Reviewed in the United States on April 15, 2019

I love the cinch tie, it makes tightening up a full bag of ice with ease. The bags also hold a full 10 lbs of ice if you want to fill them completely (unlike other 8 lb bags). The cost per bag was only $0.14. Not sure yet if they're re-usable since I haven't emptied any but I do have 4 full bags in the freezers for when family/company comes over. Without a doubt, I highly recommend these bags and will re-order them if I ever run out (I bought 100).

Very good ice bag. Love it!

Just what I needed, I use it for storing ice from my ice maker to take to my Island house by boat. So far it works just a small clash to separate the cubes and bag did not burst the drawstring is great. Only used four to date did not reuse any as yet.

They work great for that and for storing ice

Reviewed in the United States on June 7, 2018

Here is what I plan to use them for. Humidity domes for small and medium plant containers when starting seeds. They work great for that and for storing ice. I think they would work as a great seed starting kit. Fill with potting soil, Punch needle size holes in the bottom and place on large plastic plant saucer and close at top for humidity control.

Can reuse and they are strong

Reviewed in the United States on December 24, 2018

We own an Opal Flake Ice maker. As we made 3 pound bins of ice, we poured them into a bin in our freezer. It would turn into a solid mass until we beat it. It would go everywhere. I ordered these bags and I pour the bin of ice into these ice bags. They are so strong that I can beat the bag on the floor and it will not bust or tear. We also love the draw string closers. Great Buy

Good ice bag if you have an icemaker

Reviewed in the United States on July 24, 2017

Held up as good as any bag I have ever got from a store. I made up several bags of ice before an outing. When I dropped the bags of ice on the pavement to bust up the ice, the bag stayed together.
