Very large tin, great for candles, soaps, lotions, and most crafts. Great packaging for products also. The top isnt a screw top, which makes it easy to get into and out of.

I dabble in candle making do I bought these. They're lightweight and look great. I prefer these over glass jars due many reasons but primarily they seem to work better with fragrant candles. They're also lighter for mailing and no worries about them breaking if they fall to the floor.
