Handsomely designed & well made

Very happy that I bought this humidor for my father. This Cigar humidor is well made and well constructed. Perfect size humidor for someone who doesn't keep a large quantity of cigars on hand at any given time. He particuly likes the see through window on the top so he can view them before selecting his favorite cigars. Also has a wide bottom drawer to put your cigar cutter, lighter, or puncher to keep it readilly available. I just wish this came in other colors to choose from. Otherwise, it makes a very nice gift.

The humidor had a defective hydrometer and the company was kind enough to reach out to me and send me a replacement.

The box itself is good and I was surprised that my wife actually wanted me to keep it out on our cabinet holds a lot of cigars really good humidor for the money

Great humidor

This is an awesome humidor for the price, though I don't think you could fit more than 45 or so cigars unless you took out the little tray. I have 28 in mine and i have room for one more row on top. I did get a little worried at first because after seasoning it and putting my cigars in the humidity dropped severely for a day or two and I was constantly putting more water in the humidifier, but it was just because I put 28 dry cigars in at once so they soaked up all the humidity. It is running a consistent 72% now.

Smells like fresh cut wood

Reviewed in the United States on December 4, 2020

So far so good, it takes a few days for it to reach a good humidity inside. I dont think it can hold the exact number of cigars that are listed but its a decent size id say for about 20-30 big cigars. It smells really nice with a scent of fresh wood. Also already comes with a battery to see the humidity. The looks and the quality of this humidor fit the price point making it a good buy just around the holidays for that one person in your life that likes an occasional cigar.

A little dissapointed.

After reading the reviews I had high hopes. I am sure it will be a fine humidor. But the quality is sub par in my opinion. The drawer doesn't have a pull tab. So it's annoying to open. The hinges are rattling out of the box and feel like they may break at any moment. Again, I'm sure it will get the job done. But for the money. There are better products. Especially if you do not get the $20 off coupon I got. I'd suggest purchasing a different humidor.

Impressive!

Perfect gift for my dad. He was a little skeptical at first - stating that a humidor this size probably won't get above 50-55.

Once he got it set up, we waited 3 hours and the humidor got up to 70. He immediately emptied his old humidor and transferred everything to this one.

It's been about 3 months now, and the temp sways between 64-69 depending on the day. Perfect size. Looks great. Definitely recommend for someone who enjoys a good cigar often

So far so good

So far so good, although it's only been about a week or so. Seasoned it immediately upon opening. Instructions were easy to follow, everything needed was included, and they have videos available, which make things easy if you're too lazy, or can't read for some reason.

Been relatively humid lately anyhow, so it seasoned very quickly and has held right at 68-69 all week, which is where I want it. Checked the digital hygrometer and it's pretty accurate within +1/-1. I did add a little more solution to the hydro stick and tray when putting in cigars, which of course caused it to bounce around for a few hours, but it leveled out nicely. Tend to be on the dryer side when I get them in the mail, or at one of my local b&m's, so it's a good way to rehydrate them.

Overall, it's a well made humidor that does as advertised. Doesn't hold nearly 50 in my case but if you do your research, you should already be aware how the sizing is rated. If you

The product is away better than it looks on pictures. It has good detail finishing. I opened the box and checked inside, and didn't see any small particles of wood, and it has large enough storage too. Will buy it again!!
