I'm glad I got a sweater that looks nice and is somewhat warm (worn under a coat when it's 30-40f). The fit was perfect and seems the stitching will hold up for some time.

This sweater does not look at all like it does in the photo. It is grossly oversized and blousey, not tapered at all like the photo. It gets wider as it goes down. If you have a lean muscular body type and don't need to hide a paunch this is probably not what you want. Also, nowhere on the shirt or package does it indicate what size it is. There is absolutely no shirt tag to indicate a medium.

Fit just as expected. My 19 year old has an athletic build with a broad chest and back and large arms. He was happy with the fit and I think he looked very nice in it. Breathable, moveable.
