

Introducing Front Me, the friendly loan.

No interest. No credit check. No paperwork.

-  I understand referral and support revenue from my channel will be used to pay back my Front Me balance.
-  I understand that there is a flat fee of $5.00 associated with accepting a Front Me offer, and that fee will be added to my initial loan balance.
-  I understand that Nerve will keep my channel active until my Front Me balance has been paid back.
-  I understand that I will not be able to change my revenue splits or nonprofit donations until my Front Me balance has been paid in full.

Our small print is big.

When you earn a Front Me advance, it's truly that – an advance against your channel's future revenue. Super fast, super easy. We aren't gonna hide the fine print. It's right there. Read it.

So take the cash to finish your next album, pay your rent, or just have a fun night on the town. We know you're good for it.

At Nerve, your fans are your credit score.

With Front Me, you borrow against your future earnings, interest-free. When you have 50 or more fans supporting your channel, you'll receive a Front Me offer – no banks, no applications, no credit score required. We lend you the money, and your subscription fees pay us back over time.
