I had a question about upping my 90% to 100%. So I have 70% PTSD combat/20% right shoulder dislocations/10% right (dominant) shoulder impingement syndrome/ 10% left shoulder impingement syndrome status post (s/p) surgery (claimed as left shoulder joint instability) 10% tinnitus/ 10% left knee Osgood Schlatter's disease (claimed as left knee lump)/ 10% thoracolumbar strain (claimed as mid/lower back pain and sacroiliac region strain)...It all adds to 90%. My question is i've been dealing with my right shoulder still dislocating ever since I got out in 2013. It has happened so much that I just pop it back in myself. Should I go to any doctor and start getting it documented again? I wasn't always sure about getting to a 100% because I do work but I still deal with headaches and my right shoulder almost daily. I have chronic headaches on my disability but it says not service connected but it says it goes off my PTSD. I'm lost and want to know the proper steps to take to see if I can get to 100%.

Hi Sean, I would get with an accredited claims agent and have them look at your file and see what the best course of action will be for you.
