For a few pennies a day you can safeguard your investment...

- Your property taxes are determined by your local jurisdiction's estimate of value for your home. More often than not, they over estimate the value causing you to pay higher taxes. In order to lower the value you have to file an appeal.
- HomeTaxTracker will monitor your home's assessment over a number of years and alert you to when we believe this value is out of line with the market value.
- You will be notified each year when your new assessment is released and if your home value is too high

- You will be notified each year when your new assessment is released and if your home value is too high, HomeTaxTracker will provide all the supporting evidence you will need to lower your value and save you $$
- These documents will include comparable properties adjusted to compare to your home, photographic evidence and filled out appeal forms for you to submit to your jurisdiction along with instruction on what to expect next
