

Product Care

Your new marble board requires particular care, protection, and maintenance. Truth is, it is not time-consuming nor difficult and will keep your marble as good as when it first arrived. By maintaining your marble, every time you take out your marble board, you will be as happy as when you first received it. The Prism Home and Co. marble board is an ideal gift, charcuterie board, or centerpiece for a family gathering, special occasion, or a relaxing evening. Be prepared for guests to be impressed and wonder where you got such an exquisite piece.

If you are as impressed with your marble board as we are, please leave us a review on Amazon.com. If there is anything that goes wrong with shipping or the product is defective, please contact our customer service team at customerservice@prismhomeandco.com. We look forward to hearing back from you!

All our marble products are cut, assembled, and shipped from the USA.

Use:

Marble is a porous, heat resistant rock that is great for chilling to keep food cool when being displayed for a party, event, or a relaxing evening. Place the marble board in the fridge until chilled, then remove and prepare your luxurious display. Chilling your marble board is also helpful for keeping dough from sticking, especially when you are trying not to add extra flour.

We do not recommend using marble as a cutting board as it will dull your knives, it may also damage the marble board. We do recommend using the marble board as a centerpiece to display food or set items such as candles and other home décor to extenuate your rooms ambiance.

- Chill marble board in fridge to keep displayed foods chilled
- Chill to use for baking and have stick free surface
- Not recommended to use as a cutting board

After use:

Your marble board should be scrubbed with a light detergent soap with hot water and then immediately wiped dry. Another great alternative to keep your marble board clean is baking soda and water. Sprinkle a small amount of baking soda onto the surface of the marble and gently rub the baking soda with a soft cloth into the marble. Rinse with water and dry with a soft towel. Scrubbing is not recommended as it may damage the marble's surface.

We love to see what our customer's do with their pieces. Post a picture of your work with a review on Amazon.com. We look forward to seeing your display and review!

Cheers,
