

Description Reviews (1)

- The hidden clock camera is designed to look like an ordinary alarm clock that fits in with a variety of decor options, and it is fully-functional, the device features USB ports for easy charging, you can use it while charging. Automatic update the display time via app, no need manual adjustment, you can switch 12 or 24 house system as you desire, keep it plug in for 24/7 operation.
- Want to see what's happening around your home right now? this wiff spy camera in clock could be connected to the internet network, check the live feed anytime with your hidden camera. Or if you get busy and want to know what you missed you can watch archived/recording.(ps.The product package does not contain the SD card)
- Built-in motion detection system that sends alerts directly to your Smartphone and other devices like a tablet whenever there is a movement, Keep an eye on everything. Protect your family and your home investment from would-be burglars with security spy camera. Think of them as eyes where you need those most, allowing you and yours to stay safe while monitoring activity on your Smartphone.
- The world doesn't stop when the sun goes down. With the crystal clear night recording with the help of IR lights it delivers crisp images, so nothing gets by you—even after dark. So get some sleep. We've got you covered.

