Testimonials

I bought a couple for my father in law to keep refilling with my tank drinking water from my house. They are way sturdier than the plastic containers of water he was buying at the store and much easier to carry. With it, he can keep track of how much water he is drinking as well. I plan to buy a couple more

Love this water bottle! I've been trying to drink a gallon of water a day using smaller bottles but I always end up forgetting what bottle number I'm on and end up drinking under the amount. But with this I only need to drink one bottle to stay on track.

Item was exactly as described. Sturdy and easy to clean. It was a gift and was exactly what she was looking for.

The water bottle is good, I like the fact that there are time markers which are spaced out between 7am and 9PM. This helps me keep track of how much water I consumed a day and also give me motivation if I am falling behind and out of guilt conscious I try to hit my water intake goal. I love this bottle. The only thing it misses is a lid with nipple but thats ok its nota deal breaker for me.

I applied for the membership of Amazon Alliance according to the procedures. My followers buy through my links, and I get a pretty good commission; At the same time, I can also get a bonus for thumb up number of videos;
