Laboratory Director Course

Home / Laboratory Director Course

COLA's Laboratory Director course will prepare participants to meet the CLIA requirements for Laboratory Director, promote successful management of laboratory operations and effectively oversee required staff.

Physicians who complete our Laboratory Director course can qualify to be a director of a moderate complexity laboratory and obtain the required 20 CME credits in the process. The course will provide the learner with ease of accessibility and material that is concise and practical, with self-paced modules delivered through a blended online learning environment.
