MEET THE COACH Troy Adams

From the time he was born, Troy Adams has been racing toward greatness. After all, it's in his blood. His family opened Adams Kart Track, now known as Adams Motorsports Park in 1960. It was the first African American owned racing facility in California and was one of the largest facilities of its kind in the western U.S. After obtaining his bachelor's degree in Marketing, Troy decided to live in the fast lane and became a NASCAR driver.

"Pedal to the metal, throttle wide open and at full speed."
