Perhaps like many of our travelers, you're hearing more about Zimbabwe safaris, and are curious about where to begin, and what you might see.

Hwange National Park, Zimbabwe's largest reserve, should be the cornerstone of any Zim safari. With over 100 mammals and 400 bird species resident in the park, visitors are in the perfect place to spot the Big Five, unusual antelope species, and some of the largest elephant and buffalo herds to be seen anywhere in Africa.

Explore Namibia's Famed Desert Ecosystems!

Namibia's vast deserts, rocky interior and barren coastline exudes a silence and calm rarely found. Walk barefoot on red sand dunes, fly over the shipwreck coast, search for desert-adapted rhino and Bushman ethnics and see big game in Etosha park. This trip is life
