Lilly identifies needs, opportunities and problems in health care, then employs a next generation financing system to make change happen faster. From the lab bench to billing, from diagnostics to data management, Lilly launches and supports projects that break down the barriers to new knowledge and surmount the siloing that too often makes care inefficient, ineffective and inhuman.

The page features a navigation menu with links for NEWS, VISION, ABOUT, BUY, ROADMAP, TOKENOMICS, WHITEPAPER, SUBSCRIBE, and LILLY FOUNDATION. The main content area is titled "OUR STORY" and contains the following text:

Lilly was named after founder Brad Beatty's now-12-year-old daughter, Lillian Bay, born with a rare disorder known as cystic hygroma. Boca Grande, FL, the tight-knit community, rallied fast behind the family to get Lilly the surgeries she needed to survive. Inspired by his daughter's bravery and his community's support, Beatty dedicated his efforts to promoting funding and research in the medical industry. He is leveraging Lilly Finance to support children's charities, assisting surgeries and saving lives.

"We believe the world is ready for the introduction of blockchain and better transparency within the global medical industry as a whole," explains Lilly Founder Brad Beatty.

Below the text are three photographs: the first shows a man and a young girl standing on a wooden boardwalk by the water; the second is a close-up of the girl wearing a baseball cap and sunglasses; the third shows the man and girl sitting on a ledge, looking out at the water.
