Innovation Footprint™ Program

Whether starting a new business or expanding into a new product category, statutory IP rights can provide both a competitive advantage and reduce the risk of patent assertion from others. Because the time from application to patent issuance can take up to five years or more, it may be beneficial to assemble and acquire an existing portfolio of issued and in-force patents along with related maturing applications. Ocean Tomo assists companies to do exactly that through our Innovation Footprint™ program facilitated by the Ocean Tomo Bid-Ask™ market.
