Former Vivint sales lead is streamlining the solar sales process. Spencer... >

Today's guest Spencer Oberan is co-founder of one of the solar software companies that seems to be on everybody's lips lately, Enerflo. If you haven't heard of Enerflo, don't worry, I hadn't either until January of this year, but they're a fast-growing startup that's been in relative stealth mode but seem...

HELP:*Mission-Minded: 12 Weeks to a Clean Energy Career

While SunCast began as the first-ever podcast focused on solar energy for emerging markets back in 2015, it is now a go-to resource for entrepreneurs and sales professionals alike in the renewable energy space. Today, SunCast is downloaded more than 12,000 times per month by energy & cleantech professionals seeking insight into how to grow their personal and professional skills and business.

The show is mostly interview style, and provides valuable insight into the personal and professional lives of industry executives and icons like Jigar Shah (Generate Capital & a few other well-known solar companies), Dan Shugar (PowerLight, SunPower, Nextracker), Cory Vaughan (SunEdison, Lamb Energy), Stephen Lacey (GTM, Energy Gang), Tony Clifford (Standard Solar) and other amazing leaders from startups and huge corporate alike. We discuss where the markets are going, and how you can best position yourself to win based on the collective learning of our guests and host Nico Johnson's own insights from over a decade in the Solar industry. Highlights include Bold Predictions for evolution of the solar market, and insights into how some of the largest or most impactful projects and partnerships came about.
