Active Ingredients

All our products can be ingested (swallowed) for a systemic effect. It's important to note, you do not want to inhale or apply an essential oil to your skin that can't be taken internally. With your wellbeing in mind, LaCura has created a range of effective essential oil blends to booster your immunity. We only use organic, vegan, and pure ingredients in our products to provide you with the best immune system booster. Individually, each essential oil has specific qualities to support a different function or part of the body. By combining several natural ingredients in one blend, we give you multiple benefits in a single product. For instance, our immune booster contains multiple properties to support the immune system.
