In both Danish and Norwegian hygge is a word for a mood of coziness and comfort with feelings of wellness and contentment, referring to a form of everyday togetherness. The emphasis on hygge as a core part of Danish culture is a recent phenomenon, dating to the late 20th century and has since evolved into the cultural idea known today. Hygge stems from hyggje which means "to think" in Old Norse and built from the Old Norse word hugi, which later became the hug meaning the soul, mind, and consciousness. The Happiness Research Institute in Copenhagen has studied the positive effect of "hygge" on Danish society.
