Color: Gun Aviator Frame Sunglasses With Photochromic Lens for Men Women | Verified Purchase

I have not yet used these. I bought them for a beach trip which is still a few weeks away. I was shocked to get them so fast in the mail. Not even 2 days, and I do not have prime shipping. I will try to update this after I do wear them a bit.

Unboxing:

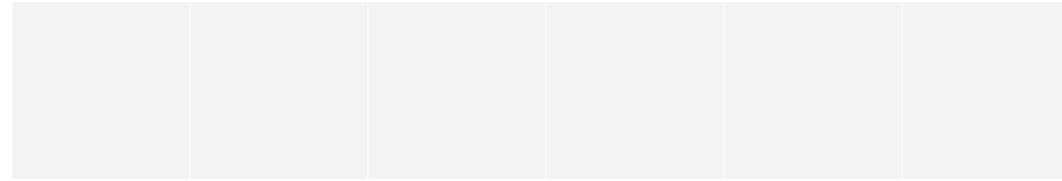

First I noticed it came in a very nice box. Fairly soild. Inside the box (pics included), I found the sunglasses, a cleaning cloth, a soft bag, a thank you card, instructions for care, a small flashlight that I believe is a blacklight (though I'm unsure as why it was in the box, none the less my cat and I like this new tiny light), and a test card. I was surprised at the many items. It was more than I'd thought I was getting.

First impression of wear and testing transition:

I do think they are a bit big on my face, I am female. That won't stop me from using them. I also think sunglasses look weird on myself.

These have the classic aviator style. I like the color of the frames.

These are special., I now have 3 pair. They're made Well.. they are Sun sensitive and they REALLY DO change their reactive level of tint quickly. I was impressed. I usually use RayBans (last pair got smashed .So they are truly are useful and attractive. I've gotten some really good compliments! You'll love these! If you need a pair of good sunglasses at a reasonable price, these are worth buying!

★★★☆☆ Very little change in shade

I gave them 2 stars because they are comfortable and sturdy. They darken some and then pretty much stay that way where ever you are. They are a little too dark for inside and not dark enough for out side. If you want photochromic shades that actually work as they are supposed to look somewhere else.

This pare of photo gray sunglasses works very well. dims inside or low light and darkens is sunlight. I personally do not recommend this pare of sunglasses on a clear bright sunshiny day they simply don't get dark enough for that.

I've had a number of transition lens glasses over the years. These are the first ones that don't clear up and take a long time to darken....like 5 minutes....I'd still like to find transition lenses that aren't polarized edited: they are ok on cloudy days but totally inadequate on sunny days.....

update 4/7/21 they don't change darkness anymore...actually only did the transition thing for about a week

I'll tell ya what. When I wear them, chicks come out of the woodwork to meet me! I swear!! I get rather embarrassed,as they'll approach me while their better half is in eye sight. I kid you not! If you want "Thee look?"

These are a must have,day or night. Perfect chick magnets!

★☆☆☆☆ Not worth it. Doesn't tint very much.

Lens does not get anywhere near as dark as the photo shows. Honestly they get really no darker than the already tint that's there unless you you put a light damn near directly on the lense itself.
