We Build Highly Skilled Teams

We have an extensive onshore talent pipeline to find great people to help you when you need them most.
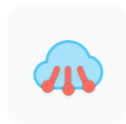

A partnership with Talentcrowd gives enterprises resiliency through immediate access to high-quality, relevant, and action-oriented technology expertise. It's the answers you need, when you need them – easier than hiring full-time talent, and less costly than a big consulting firm. Keep a lean team internally and leverage experts from the outside for topical specialty as well as for capacity spikes.
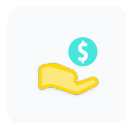

Verified, Trusted Talent

Every developer at Talentcrowd has to clear tests for programming languages, data structures, algorithms, system designs, software specialization, frameworks, and more. Beyond their brilliant technical capabilities, Talentcrowders are also screened on their soft skills including attitude, ethical values, energy, education, and more. We want to ensure they're amazing teammates, not just amazing workers.

Extensive Remote Experience

We know how to serve our clients who are dealing with a new normal of remote-first workplaces. The Pandemic did not change our approach, we have been remote first well before it was demanded.

Hiring Made Easy

Talentcrowd offers its customers a total talent solution: Full-time, SOW, freelance, Expert Marketplace, and everything in between.

Expert Marketplace

A Stable Partnership, Even in Unstable Times: Talentcrowd's Enterprise Marketplace puts the power of agile consulting in the hands of your business leaders, delivering actionable solutions for emergent problems across your IT organization.
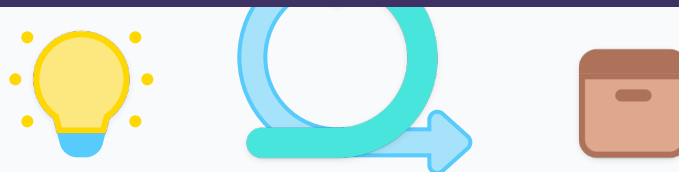

Staff Augmentation

Extended team services are a proven, reliable, and cost-effective way to increase the size and productivity of your internal development teams with minimal time. We provide the speed, professional acumen and flexibility your team needs to scale quickly and complete development on time.

Direct-Hire Recruitment

Talentcrowd direct hire is a talent solution for permanent hires or new roles on your team. Our responsiveness and speed allow us to hit the ground running, utilizing our network of pre-qualified talent ready to make a move. No role is too complex nor are the skills required to get the job done too technical for us to meet. We evaluate the needs of your company to identify the perfect full-time hire for your organization.

Managed Services & Project-based Consulting

We take a close look at each individual project and then curate a team of hand-selected experts for that project's specific needs. This way, your full-time employees can focus on strategic goals that match their skill level. The pace of change in business has accelerated. The past few years have presented challenges ranging from an inverted labor market and top talent shortages to hiring freezes. Throughout it all, however, one problem has plagued enterprise executives: stalled critical work. Talentcrowd can scale and optimize how your organization does project-based work with on-demand elite independent experts & consultants —giving enterprises resiliency through immediate access to high-quality, relevant, and action-oriented technology expertise.
