★★★★★ Very good bowls for miixing and storage

Reviewed in the United Kingdom GB on May 17, 2017

Verified Purchase

I like these bowls very much. I chose them because they are deeper than others I had considered. This makes them better for mixing and storing in my opinion. The bowls are quite light in weight but are sturdy in use. They have a good folded rim which makes them easy to handle. They are nically finished - very shiny inside - and although the description recommends hand washing I did try them in the dishwasher and they came out perfectly fine.

The bowls are embossed on the inside with a scale for measuring volume. It typically shows three values which can be rather quirky - the largest bowl for example holds 5 litres and is marked at values of 1.4, 2.2, and 3.0 litres. They are quite accurate, but I personally wouldn't find them very helpful.

The lids are a push fit inside the rim. They don't click into place and so don't form a tight seal, but that actually makes them easy to use and ideal for fridge storage for example. With the lids on the bowls stack nicely and securely on top of each other. With the lids off they stack inside each other and the lids stack together on top - in effect everything fits into the largest bowl for easy storage. So overall these bowls work well for me, and are very good value at the price I paid - although I see the price has gone up recently.

★★★★☆ Food storage

Great for storing or mixing food. Not the heaviest of stainless steel but good value. Lids are not airtight but do cover hygienically. Best feature is they are unbreakable

★★★★★ Perfect set of bowls

Reviewed in the United Kingdom GB on April 4, 2021

Perfect set of bowls. Easy to store as they all stack inside one another. Each bowl has an individual lid. Handy when you want to store things that have been pre prepared. They have measurements on the side to use when baking.

★★★★★ A very good solid set of bowls

Reviewed in the United Kingdom GB on October 7, 2017

Verified Purchase

A very good solid set of bowls. Great for storing left overs in the fridge, for marinating meats and for general mixing. I usually use cling film or another plate to cover bowls when storing food in the fridge, but this is perfect because it saves on cling film (saving the environment) and a is lot neater. The bowls and lids all stack nicely together, so it a great space saver. I always go for top quality 18/10 stainless steel, so these bowls are perfect!

These look nice on the kitchen work surface.
They are all good size bowls and dont dry dull or smeared. Very good quality.
