Welcome to The Diosahood

A soulful sisterhood honoring the diosa within.

*Are you ready to come back home to you?
To return to the divinity that you are as diosa?*

This is The Diosahood led by Christine Gutierrez

The Diosahood is a global community of like-hearted women that come together to heal, to share, to grow, to rise, to lead. It is a sacred space to bask in the medicine of other dope fierce women, goddesses, diosas. Life gets chaotic and busy. It's hard enough to be a human in this busy world, but to be a woman (to be a Latina woman/WOC), and to be a conscious woman is A LOT. It isn't easy, and we deserve support along the way.

Your messy, your crazy, your brokenness is welcome here.
All of you is welcome here

We deserve to live our lives the way we were intended to, but we need the space to be loved up when we can't love ourselves. A space to be inspired and share our hard days and our biggest dreams. A soul space that is just for us.

Hi! I'm Christine Gutierrez the founder of The Diosahood

I created The Diosahood because I believe sisterhood is soul medicine. I believe that as we gather together in a sacred community, we remember our worth and wisdom.

I desired a community of like-hearted women when I was on my spiritual path because I knew that together we would heal faster, and I was right. In sisterhood, we feel validated, seen, heard, and felt.

I also knew that there was a massive need for a safe space in the spiritual world for women of color. When I first started out in this field, over 10 years ago, there were very few spaces that were created for and by a WOC. I felt the call in my soul, to change that. The Diosahood is the result of listening to that call in my soul.

This is our online home, our safe space, our diosahood. <3

*This is your space to fuel up on your diosa vibes.
To fill up your spiritual tank. To surrender and be held.
To unpack your bags and chat “platicas del alma”

Women are hearing this call louder than ever. I call this the soul call. The call to dive deep, heal and lead. The call to go inward and to find sustainable happiness that isn't dependent on that romantic partner, that job, that compliment, or money. This soul call is calling people back HOME to their soul home.

I have been healing for over a decade, guiding people to untangle the webs of their childhood and trauma and find the medicine in the dark and the light of their story. As a healer, I saw the need for this work. I saw the beautiful Latina faces and women of color flocking to my events both online and in person. I knew there was a need for this spiritual yet psychologically-based work.

A photograph of two women standing in a field of tall grass, looking towards the horizon. They are wearing shawls; one is striped and the other is patterned. The scene is bathed in a warm, golden light, suggesting sunset or sunrise. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image.

They are warriors. They have risen from the ashes. They are ready to do the work. They are ready to love themselves more, they just need the roadmap, the love, and the extra push to crown themselves in their confidence and worth. The Diosa Community is where these women who are not only like-minded but like-hearted, come to gather.

Throughout my work in this past decade, I have witnessed miracles within my client's lives. Women that came in feeling broken and in toxic relationships and through their soul work, found their deep worth and walked away! Women that came with a quiet voice and left with their voice loud and their truth rooted in their core. Women who feared women due to bullying and instead found safety in sisterhood again. Women that now have lifelong friends who are bridesmaids in their wedding! Women who didn't love themselves now feel their love deep in their bones.

Their lives were changing but they wanted to stay connected to this energy. They wanted to stay connected to the spiritual guidance and teachings. They longed for the love and devoted support of the sisterhood and fellow diosa's. This is where the Diosahood was born. A place to continue to have spiritual maintainability. A place to have your soul nourished and your heart filled.

Sisterhood stems from the word "sisters" which are beams that are used in construction to support one another to stand firm and strong.

We as diosa sisters, do the same for one another.

We keep each other strong, authentic, empowered, loved, inspired, and clear.

Let me introduce you to The Diosahood

I created the Diosahood to make it incredibly easy and fun to stay consistent with your spiritual practice, stay connected to your sisterhood, and stay in that sacred spiritual energy - so you can feel connected, supported, and inspired every day.

I searched for this space for a long time and I didn't find it! So instead of wishing it existed, I created it! The Diosahood is a place for grounded spirituality. We will offer you tools and approaches that are soulful and practical.

The program is based on a 5-star mission:

Spirituality | Self-Esteem | Sisterhood | Sensuality | Service

It's for the women

- that want sisterhood diosa support and community
- that are ready to heal and wants to be held accountable to living as fiercely and authentically herself as possible

The Diosahood allows you to make self-care easy because the support is at your fingertips.

Our group calls, soul homework, and sister love allow you to stay on track effortlessly. You're never alone. We have your back and hold your heart safe. And the moment you join, you become part of a tribe and sisterhood of supportive Diosas who just get you and help you stay committed to YOU and your dreams.

Want a sneak peek into the Diosahood community?

This sacred community is a safe space for you to be spiritually charged up, for you to stay connected to your highest divine diosa self, for you to feel encouraged, loved, and supported. I, alongside, other guides provide tools, inspiration, and coaching for you to be able to have a container that nurtures you daily.

Discussion Forums

We have various forums dedicated to topics that most come up. Think relationships, self-care, spirituality, money, soul purpose, healing childhood wounds, inspiration and more!

Diosa Circles + Modules

Access to all Diosa Circles, modules, and workshops, both past, and present. Diosa circles are hosted by Christine Gutierrez once a month and include a live circle, a Diosa e-book, journal prompts music playlists, and rituals to activate the diosa within.

Diosa Support Circles

Join one of the Diosa Support Circles, which are groups of 2-4 diosas that gather to encourage one another on this spiritual path. They are your spiritual running buddies so to speak. This is a wonderful way to go a bit deeper on the Diosahood platform and build your connection and diosa friendships. You will be self-led and find times that work for you all beyond the container of The Diosahood.

Workshops, Live Panel Discussions, Monthly New Moon Circles, Diosa Gatherings, and more!

We pride ourselves on offering the most beautiful, nurturing, and soul-full workshops for and by women. Our space is primarily geared towards WOC and therefore we also aim to have the majority of all our teachers be POC.

Some examples of workshops on The Diosahood platform include Intro to the chakra system, sacred cacao ceremony, accessing abundance through authenticity, make big bank while you make a big impact, new moon circles, limpia medicina and so much more! Our platform shares soul medicine in various formats: video, audio, worksheets, live and self study events so that you can explore and learn in a variety of ways. Each month we hold two live virtual workshops that are then added to our vault of dozens of other content from past months and years.

My favorite part! Our own app!

When choosing this platform one of my favorite features was our own app. With this, we have a separate and private platform that is exclusive to our Diosahood members, including our own chat groups, and chat boards. There is also an incredible feature with geolocation options so you can find a diosa soul sister near you. My deepest soul dream is to see diosas connecting globally in sisterhood both online and in person from this sacred diosahood community!

Be loved up and nurtured

The Diosahood is raw, real, and down to support you through it all. I am so proud of the community we have built for the past 11+ years that I have been doing this sacred diosa work. This is your space to take a time out, to nurture yourself, to practice deep self-devotion and soul work.

Each month, we will also have an exclusive newsletter for our Diosahood members. We will highlight the monthly events so you are in the loop, give a monthly theme and overview of the content for the month, and also feature our very own Diosa members in the Diosa Spotlight of the month. This community is there to not just provide content but to encourage you to create content as well. Our community of diosas are healers, changemakers, and medicine women. This is your consistent place for support and inspiration. This is your digital home.

As a Latina woman, primarily serving WOC and women that have gone through a lot of ish- I am always mindful of the different seasons of life that we can be in when we happen upon this soul-work. Different seasons of life, also include various different financial situations. I always like to offer a wide range of prices so that people can access this work no matter where we are on our money journey. This is why I've made the Diosahood accessible financially.

With Your Diosahood Membership, you receive:

- Exclusive Diosa app with diosa soul sisters around the world ready to connect and support one another!
- LIVE monthly virtual Diosa Circle lead by me, Christine Gutierrez, choosing themes that we can all relate to and offering live coaching.

Diosahood Love

Months before I joined the Diosahood, my soul had been in search of a sisterhood community, but I didn't know where or how I would find it. I was lacking that deep, spiritual connection in my life with other women which was leading me to feel a sense of loneliness. As soon as I found out about The Diosahood, there was no question about it, this is what I had been in search of so I immediately joined. This digital community is an intimate, safe space where we get the chance to discuss different topics that are relevant to spirituality, personal development, and the female experience.

Women come together to listen and support one another, to reflect deeply about our life journeys, share our personal experiences, and become empowered to step into our most fulfilled selves. The sessions I attended have always offered a new perspective that uncovers something about myself or reinforces my path which has led me to live my life with more confidence.

What makes The Diosahood that much more special is that it is a community made up of women of color that share similar experiences. I have found myself relating to many of the women that share about their lives. It's amazing how reflecting and connecting together with a group of women can spark something in the heart and soul. Joining the Diosahood has without a doubt contributed to my spiritual, mental, and emotional evolution! ~ Thalia

It's been a couple of weeks since I became a member of the online Diosahood community and I'm already gaining new wisdom & tools that are helping me with my spirituality. I love that there is a workshop almost every week which helps me stay motivated, accountable, and INSPIRED. I love that the Diosahood has its own online network where we can receive our own content that helps us to reflect and stay grounded! This is an

The Diosahood is a sacred container that holds all things divine feminine! It's a space where women can remember their divinity, reclaim their connection to themselves, and find a sisterhood that continues to show up to level up. Proximity is power and, in this space, you feel so much support, encouragement and the one thing that women have sadly forgotten; that we can rely on each other and trust again. Women need to be in

AMAZING community to find other Diosas who are on a similar path to healing and becoming their greatest versions! ~ Anina

containers together more often, it is soulfully needed, and Christine provides such a space. So thankful to be part of it! ~ Maria Brito

I have always been a true believer that when the stars align and things fall into place, magic happens. This is how I felt when I met Christine and was introduced to the Diosahood community. This community has awakened my soul and spirit, as well as my thirst for knowledge and continual personal and professional growth. The welcoming and stay is warm and genuine, and the process is ever-changing. Christine opens up a natural atmosphere and flow that lights up a fire inside. Curiously, I dove inward and fully embraced my story just as it is, while also creating intentional changes within me. I have allowed myself to let go of what no longer serves me with grace and compassion.

Through finding similar soul sisters in this community and Christine as our coach, I have tapped into amazing minds and hearts that I choose to surround myself with. The Diosahood is a space that allows you to be vulnerable, unpack, and dig deep into your natural gifts and talents. You will have access to phenomenal speakers that not only share their expertise, but like Christine, share a vision for our community to grow, thrive, and give back. These are things that deepen my soul purpose. Hands down, Diosahood is the best hood to be in! Now every time I hear the word diosa it carries a different meaning for me, as once you connect with this community, you will know what I mean. ~ Anita

Community is so important, and that is what the Diosahood is for me. A community of strong women who come together to expand and grow into their power of being a Diosa. A true sisterhood of compassion, support, and love. We hold space for each other in our struggles and celebrate each other's wins. I've never felt so seen

I love connecting and being a part of the Diosa community. It feels like a soul family who's there to keep me grounded, accountable, and inspired. It's where I feel my evolving is supported and understood. It's a space where I feel safe sharing my vulnerabilities and am met with compassion. It's allowed me to build on my healing and in a community of women. The Diosahood has given me tools for growth, inner wisdom, and connecting to spirit.

~ Zephra

continue to nurture myself into the woman I'm becoming. I'm so thankful for this community.

I joined the Diosahood after reading Christine's book - I am Diosa - her book really helped me in my journey, and I was so excited to find out about the Diosahood. I was ready to receive the wonderful resources and connections I was going to make. The Diosahood is not only a place where you connect with other women that are in a similar journey as you, even though that is one of the best things about it, but it's also a space where you get to learn. You get to learn about spirituality, selfcare, meditations and ways to destress. Through the Diosahood I came across a wonderful teacher that became my Reiki teacher. I am grateful to Christine and this wonderful platform she created for Diosas to connect, learn, grow and heal.
