Traveling or Travelling?

Marko Ticak

BASICS

How great is it to travel? To meet new people, see new places, experience different cultures, live life the way life is lived somewhere else. Plenty of good things are associated with travel, but there's one particular issue that can make traveling annoying: the spelling. Travel is easy enough to spell and not at all confusing, but "traveling," "traveler," "traveled"? These words are a common cause of confusion because some people spell them with one L while others use two.

Traveling or travelling depends on where is your audience. Traveling is the preferred spelling in the U.S. Travelling is the preferred spelling in the UK or in the Commonwealth. This American-British spelling difference carries for other forms: traveled or travelled and traveler or traveller.

THE TRAVELER

THE GENIUS, POP-UP ORGANIZER FOR THE TRAVELING WOMAN OR WOMAN AT HOME.

THE TRAVELER'S unique design includes 3 POP-UP different size boxes which fit into a travel flat for convenience. Whether you are using this for your daily routine or when you get to where you are going, the boxes pop-up intuitively.

Because cosmetics and toiletries come in all shapes and sizes, organizers and storage solutions should adapt to the differences - one size just does not fit all. In fact, 70% of makeup items are VERTICAL. That's the key to THE TRAVELER'S innovation.

Each box is cleverly stair-stepped to hold mascaras,
