Education

With an increased demand for more higher learning options, universities across the US are expanding their education programs to accommodate online and alternate learning programs for enrollees. With an ever-changing industry, universities are managing a tech-driven society, with legacy systems and departments struggling to meet the needs of their students.

As the next generation of college students starts to enter the university system, the need to be relevant and cutting edge requires a focused and organized approach. As they look at their internal bandwidth, many universities are looking for outside partners to help facilitate their initiatives.

That's where Stay In The Game comes in.

Our unique and scalable model employs highly educated individuals across the US that have downshifted from their corporate positions to provide care for family members. We have the flexibility to shift our resources to your most challenging projects and work to achieve your timelines.
