Allow students & employees more freedom to spend time how they want, where they want

Starship's robot delivery service helps employees and students on corporate and academic campuses order items to be delivered anywhere on campus.

Saves time

Starship understands that time is valuable and by offering convenient campus delivery, the service gives freedom back to employees and students to spend their time how they want, where they want.

Tackles distances

Campuses can cover a lot of ground. Starship's campus delivery platform enables anyone employed on campus to receive food, drinks or supplies on-demand, directly from the Starship app on their phone.

Opens up spaces

Campuses often have a number of indoor and outdoor spaces where staff can take a break instead of spending time waiting in line. Starship allows

World's first robot delivery service for corporate and academic campuses anyone to order directly to anywhere on campus, meaning that employees can enjoy lunch in the sun or a coffee in the park.

"I have never seen a robot like this—this has to be the first time. This small little cute robot delivered my lunch today. I would absolutely use this service again—probably tomorrow."

Litigation Paralegal

"I normally miss breakfast because I'm in a rush on the way to work, but this service has allowed me to have breakfast again, by bringing it to me. Now I can start my days stronger and still have time in the mornings to do things I want, maybe even sleep in a little bit."
