Four Nickerson St., Ste 200
Seattle, WA 98109-1651

Dear Mr. Gore,

We have received your letter requesting permission to use the Nasco copywrited name "BioQuest" for signage on your science gallery and teaching lab and for your local science education program.

With this letter we give the Seattle Biomedical Research Institute permission to use the name BioQuest on the limited scope of activities as described above and in your letter of September 18, 2003. We specifically do not give permission for you to use the name on educational teaching products that are sold for educational purposes.

In addition, will you consider linking to our eNASCO website so anyone looking for science teaching products can easily purchase from us? The contact for preliminary arrangements would be Kevin Hart, who is located in Fort Atkinson and can assist on set up of the link.

Also, making the assumption that you may want to purchase teaching aids for the facility, I would be appreciative if you would contact Jim Felt at Nasco in Modesto, CA. for a quotation (209-545-1600). We would look very forward to serving you.

We will also have a booth at the National Association of Biology Teachers Convention which will be in Portland, Oregon October 8-11 if you or anyone from your staff will be in attendance. We would look forward to becoming better acquainted with your organization.

Best of wishes to you on your efforts for improving your outreach program.

Sincerely,

NASCO

W. Phil Niemeyer
