BACK TO HOME PAGE MAPGeisha is moving next door!

Dear Friends,

We are happy to announce that Geisha is finally moving next door to 27 East 61st Street in a totally renovated, authentic space that we are sure you will love and make your new home.

In our new location, you will enjoy a fresh space with genuine Japanese decor and a renovated menu created by our same team of talented chefs—Executive Chef Richard Lee and Master Sushi Chef Don Pham. They are working together to create new unique dishes to present with our signature Geisha classics. For your convenience, we will keep our current Open Table reservation system.

We apologize for the short interruption of service that this will cause, but we trust that you will be very happy with the improvements!

The new Geisha building addition is designed by renown architectural firm C3D Architecture PLLC whose work include museums and beautiful public projects. The new Geisha restaurant is designed by a fabulous team of architects under the services of Julius Babilonia in collaboration with Anthea Bosch.

Please send your comments, ideas and suggestions to info@geisharestaurant.com

Tell us which are your favorite dishes, what you like best about Geisha, what you would improve in our new location. We really do not want to miss the opportunity to know what you think!

We have enjoyed getting to know you since we first launched Geisha in 2003. We sincerely value your friendship and we would like to thank you by inviting you to our re-opening party. We look forward to this evening when we will all be reunited, together in Geisha's beautiful new home.

Please send us your information & email address to info@geisharestaurant.com so that we can invite you to our special grand opening event.

On behalf of everyone at Geisha, thank you!
Arigato!
Fabio and Vittorio

Geisha is happy to be a part of the Upper West side

Geisha Table has the spirit of a true izakaya, a Japanese style establishment with an informal and social, yet sophisticated vibe, and uncomplicated and fresh cuisine. This little gem in the Upper West Side offers an intimate setting for guests to experience a select menu from Master Sushi Chef Don Pham. Our food is simple, yet designed and executed to the highest level.

With only 23 seats, our quaint sushi bar and Japanese restaurant greets diners with a warm and organic envelope punctuated with color and authentic Japanese accents. Communal seating contributes to the friendly and lively setting, as customers are encouraged to mingle with each other during their visits.

The name, Geisha Table, has been chosen to honor the beautiful hand-made communal table occupying the center of the room. This table is much more than a functional piece of furniture. It was conceived and built as a piece of art, a truly original creation.

It perfectly embodies the concept for the restaurant:
warm, simple, communal, and made with love. .
