All functions of your body require sufficient moisture to work properly. When your body does not have sufficient moisture, it functions poorly. Dry, arid climatic conditions are usually the culprit. Colds and flu can further cause dehydration. Colds and flu begin making their seasonal rounds during fall and winter. Part of the reason for increased respiratory illnesses during this time is because the humidity level in the air reaches its yearly lows. Central heating units in homes and offices further remove moisture from the air. The relative humidity may drop to as low as 10% - drier than the air in the Sahara Desert. Most people experience problems when the relative humidity drops below 25%. A comfortable humidity level should not be higher than 50%. Humidifiers help prevent this excessive dryness, providing these benefits: Helps relieve congestion and coughs by keeping the throat and nasal passages hydrated. Helps you breathe better and sleep more comfortably. Helps provide relief for dry eyes, dry nose, flakey skin, chapped lips, and general indoor air discomfort. Helps reduce static electricity. Stops dry out damage to plants, paintings and furniture. Saves you money on heating bills, since proper humidity lets you feel more comfortable at lower temperatures. 2 settings - two moisture settings. Quiet - quietly disperses a pure mist. Easy-to-fill - Water chamber has large lock-tight leak proof opening. Light - large night light. Convenient - Built-in medication chamber for inhalants. C UL US listed. CVS quality. Made in China.
