Description Shop Policies

This is the cleanest example of a Gibson Corvus I you will find. This guitar was ordered in 1983 for a local guitar store and was never sold. It hung on the sales floor wall until the business closed and the owner kept it in the case for the next 35 years until I bought it. Superficial pick marks on the pick guard and evidence that the neck was removed at one point (screws show evidence of a screw driver) are the only clues that this is not a Brand New guitar. There weren't very many of these produced at all but the natural color was a custom option. Very rare finish on a rare guitar. If you're looking for a genuine "Closet Classic" this is it. Original case and all paperwork included. Feel free to message with any questions and thanks for looking!
