Looking Glass Factory
Design/Development Proposal

Discussion point	Action items
Devices We're looking to do an installation with 5 – 6 large looking glass devices with leap motion controller. Where possible, we want the interactions/stories to flow from one device to the other, in a sort of interconnected way.	@Ben Paletsky Let us know if there is a different process for bulk orders or corporate orders other than using the Buy option on the site.
Service In addition to the device, we're interested in design and development services for custom holographic interactions. Please see this [redacted] for the HC Trends report I mention on the call. We want to take concepts from this report and turn them into interactive holographic displays.	@Ben Paletsky Please share a high level process, information and pricing for your design and development services. [redacted] Will take point on discussions for services scope and pricing discussions.
Technical We'd appreciate your collaboration in helping us complete cyber security and other technical checks internal to us. These are requirements for us to onboard any system/software to our environment.	[redacted] will share with you an initial set of questions or requirements around technology. As we progress in the flow, he will be the point contact for all technical elements.
