Declaration

I hereby declare that we comply with the controlled substances act and all of the foregoing containing or for use with products containing CBD derived from hemp with a delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) concentration of not more than 0.3 percent on a dry weight basis

What our goods do, and how they differ from what is out on the market?

Our product is a paper tube that is pre-filled with whole flower hemp containing naturally occurring hemp derived CBD. The flower in the tube is heated in a proprietary electronic 'heat-not-burn' device which warms the flower to a sufficient temperature to releases the cannabinoids, but not high enough to produce combustion. The efficacy of this method is preferable to many other methods of consuming CBD due to the rapid onset through absorption. No other products exist that contain whole flower hemp for use with a heat not burn system

Thank you,
