Get Your Landscaping Jobs Done With Mulch

Mulch serves many purposes, including plant protection, weed prevention and moisture retention. It provides plants with much-needed nutrients, and it also gives yards a well-maintained look. We carry a variety of landscape mulch, which vary by type, color and price. Want to make sure you get the best mulch for your yard? Here are some things to consider.

Organic Mulch vs. Inorganic Mulch

Organic mulch is made with natural materials, and it helps to enrich soil as it breaks down. Examples of organic options include pine needle mulch, wood chip mulch and straw. Inorganic mulch is made from man-made products and doesn't degrade, meaning it won't provide any nutritional benefits to soil. Inorganic options, like bulk rubber mulch and pea gravel, help to reduce weeds and help plants retain moisture.

Mulch Colors

Mulch colors range just as much as mulch materials. From brown and black to red, copper and more, there are a variety of options to complement your landscaping.

Mulch Uses

In addition to using mulch around plant beds and trees, it's great for creating walkways, creating borders around driveways and more. If you want less yard upkeep, stone and rubber mulch are great options for replacing grass areas while improving the look of your landscape.
