

EXHIBIT C

Home US English good

Definition of good in English:

good

Pronunciation /gōd/ /gʊd/

Translate good into Spanish

ADJECTIVE better, best

1 To be desired or approved of.

'a good quality of life'More example sentences

1.1 Pleasing and welcome.

'she was pleased to hear good news about him'More example sentences

1.2 Expressing approval.

'the play had good reviews'More example sentencesSynonyms

2 Having the qualities required for a particular role.

'the schools here are good'More example sentencesSynonyms

2.1 Skilled at doing or dealing with a specified thing.

'I'm good at crosswords'More example sentencesSynonyms

2.2 Useful, advantageous, or beneficial in effect.

More example sentencesSynonyms

2.3 Appropriate to a particular purpose.

'this is a good month for planting seeds'More example sentencesSynonyms

2.4 (of language) with correct grammar and pronunciation.

'she speaks good English'

More example sentences

Synonyms

2.5 Strictly adhering to or fulfilling all the principles of a particular cause, religion, or party.

'I am the eldest of five in a good Catholic family'

More example sentences

3 Possessing or displaying moral virtue.

'I've met many good people who made me feel ashamed of my own shortcomings'

More example sentences

Synonyms

3.1 Showing kindness.

'you are good—thank you'

More example sentences

Synonyms

3.2 Obedient to rules or conventions.

'accustom the child to being rewarded for good behavior'

More example sentences

Synonyms

3.3 Used to address or refer to people, especially in a patronizing or humorous way.

'the good people of the city were disconcerted'

More example sentences

3.4 Commanding respect.

'he was concerned with establishing and maintaining his good name'

More example sentences

Synonyms

3.5 Belonging or relating to a high social class.

'he comes from a good family'

More example sentences

Synonyms

4 Giving pleasure; enjoyable or satisfying.

'the streets fill up with people looking for a good time'

More example sentences

Synonyms

4.1 Pleasant to look at; attractive.

'you're looking pretty good'

More example sentences

4.2 (of clothes) smart and suitable for formal wear.

'he went upstairs to change out of his good suit'

More example sentences

Synonyms

5 attributive Thorough.

'have a good look around'

More example sentences

5.1 Used to emphasize that a number is at least as great as one claims.

'they're a good twenty years younger'

More example sentences

Synonyms

5.2 Used to emphasize a following adjective.

'we had a good long hug'

More example sentences

5.3 Fairly large.

'there's a good chance that we may be able to help you'

More example sentences

Synonyms

6 (of a ticket) valid.

'the ticket is good for travel from May to September'

More example sentences

Synonyms

6.1 Reliably providing.

'they found him good for a laugh'

More example sentences

6.2 Sufficient to pay for.

More example sentences

7 Used in conjunction with the name of God or a related expression as an exclamation of extreme surprise or anger.

'good heavens!'

More example sentences

NOUN

1 That which is morally right; righteousness.

'a mysterious balance of good and evil'

More example sentences

Synonyms

2 Benefit or advantage to someone or something.

'he convinces his father to use his genius for the good of mankind'

More example sentences

Synonyms

ADVERB

informal

Well.

More example sentences

Usage

The adverb corresponding to the adjective good is well: she is a good swimmer who performs well in meets. Confusion sometimes arises because well is also an adjective meaning 'in good health, healthy,' for which good is widely used informally as a substitute: I feel well, meaning 'I feel healthy'—versus the informal I feel good, meaning either 'I feel healthy' or 'I am in a good mood.' See also

bad

Phrases

be — to the good

Have a specified net profit or advantage.

'I came out $7 to the good'

More example sentences

do good

1 Act virtuously, especially by helping others.

'They both ask people to be virtuous, and they both do good to their followers.'

More example sentences

2 Make a helpful contribution to a situation.

'could the discussion do any good?'

More example sentences

be no good

1 Have no merit.

More example sentences

1.1 Be no help in dealing with a situation.

More example sentences

the Good Shepherd

A name for Jesus.

'In these cases, he urged the superiors to follow the example of Jesus the Good Shepherd, who left ninety-nine of his flock on the mountains to go in search of the one sheep that had strayed.'

More example sentences

take something in good part

Not be offended by something.

'he took her abruptness in good part'

More example sentences

as good as —

1 Very nearly —

'she's as good as here'

More example sentences

1.1 Used of a result which will inevitably follow.

'if we pass on the information, he's as good as dead'

More example sentences

as good as gold

1 (especially of a child) very well mannered.

'the children were as good as gold, waiting patiently at the entrance'

More example sentences

1.1 In a very good condition or state.

More example sentences

all to the good

To be welcomed without qualification.

'That we have to support, and if the administration moves in that direction or is prodded to move in that direction that is all to the good because there is no alternative.'

More example sentences

in good time

- 1 With no risk of being late.

'I arrived in good time'

More example sentences

- 2 (also all in good time)

In due course but without haste.

'you shall have a puppy all in good time'

More example sentences

be much good

- 1 with negative Have much merit.

More example sentences

- 1.1 Be much help in dealing with a situation.

More example sentences

a good word

Words in recommendation or defense of a person.

'I hoped you might put in a good word for me with your friends'

More example sentences

make good

Be successful.

'a college friend who made good in Hollywood'

More example sentences

the Good Book

The Bible.

'On the other hand, various religious groups have used the Good Book and their own commentaries and other writings to foster alternative views of truth.'

More example sentences

good for you

Used to express praise or approval of something said or done, or enjoyment in a person's success or good fortune.

"I'm taking my driving test next month." "Good for you!"

More example sentences

be any good

1 Have some merit.

'tell me whether that picture is any good'

More example sentences

1.1 Be of some help in dealing with a situation.

'I don't suppose it would be any good asking Stan'

More example sentences

be good to go

North American informal

Be ready or prepared for something.

More example sentences

do someone good

Be beneficial to someone, especially to their health.

'the walk will do you good'

More example sentences

be so good as to do something

Used to make a polite request.

'would you be so good as to answer?'

More example sentences

up to no good

Doing something wrong.

'Of course now that I am the parent, it would be wrong to assume that the teens I know are up to no good, so I work hard to give them the benefit of the doubt.'

More example sentences

make something good

1 Compensate for loss, damage, or expense.

'if I scratched the table I'd make good the damage'

More example sentences

1.1 Repair or restore after damage.

More example sentences

2 Fulfill a promise or claim.

'I challenged him to make good his boast'

More example sentences

for good

Forever; definitively.

'the experience almost frightened me away for good'

More example sentences

Origin

Old English gōd, of Germanic origin; related to Dutch goed and German gut.