With the little lid, this is an ashtray in disguise as a place to hold trinkets. I don't smoke, but I purchased this for when I have guests over to avoid them throwing their butts in the yard. They've all complimented the tray as super cute, and it is very functional to keep wind away as well. When I first opened the box, I gave it a few knocks on hard surfaces - it seems to be built tough. My sister has a teal outdoor patio theme - I plan to purchase one for her, too!

Very well made and beautiful piece. I'm not a smoker and actually purchased this for burning cone incense in and it works perfectly! When I'm tired of smelling the incense I just pop the lid on and it snuffs it right out. Of course this would work great for smokers too as once the lid goes on, the smell goes away!
