WHEN YOU DEMAND THE BEST.

When special job specifications require the use of fusion-bonded epoxy coated rebar instead of common black steel, Mar-Mac Premium Gold offers a plastic encapsulated annealed wire that helps protect the epoxy coating and minimize corrosion. This smooth plastic coating actually bonds to the annealed wire, yet maintains the same soft, workable characteristics of all Mar-Mac Premium wire products.

Mar-Mac's Premium Wire Product line also includes galvanized, stainless steel, and double-strand black annealed wire, offered in a variety of gauges for specialized applications and job requirements.

Mar-Mac Sharkskin is a plastic-coated wire product similar to Mar-Mac Gold, that is also used for tying FBE-coated rebar, yet offers a unique, textured surface that provides greater friction and strength at the tied joint.
