

MORE
THINGS THAT AREN'T HERE
ANYMORE

Remember when a hamburger was a nickel? Remember when you could have lunch in a big brown hat? Remember when you could travel to Catalina Island on a steam ship? Join us for a drive down memory lane (after all, no one walks in Los Angeles!) - We'll take Route 66 and recall More Things That Aren't Here Anymore. From the 1920s to the 60s, many well-loved icons helped define the colorful character of Southern California. Although some of these relics of the past are no longer with us, they're certainly not forgotten. This memorable video scrapbook looks back at many of our happiest memories including Corriganville, Busch Gardens, Lion Country Safari, Cubs baseball and the Glendale Airport. Also featured are many unforgettable television personalities such as Cleve Roberts and Engineer Bill. Veteran broadcaster Ralph Story is your guide on this remarkable sentimental journey!

Approximate running time: 30 minutes

Writer and host, Ralph Story
Producer, Robert Dean
Executive Producer, Val Zavala
Associate Producer, Diana Lee
Editor, Mary Danly

©1995 Community Television of Southern California
All Rights Reserved
B&W Photos: Security Pacific National Bank
Photograph Collection/L.A. Public Library

KCET