our products

Aidan currently offers nine different nutraceutical supplements. Each of our supplements are designed to support specific health functions and many contain patented ingredients and formulations that by law cannot be found anywhere else. Our products are produced in GMP facilities and have been tested by independent laboratories and collaborators. C-Statins has been demonstrated to be more effective at inhibiting angiogenesis than shark cartilage or other leading products. Stem-Kine has been demonstrated to significantly increase circulating stem cells for an extended period of time.
