

About Ingrasys

Mission & Focus

Milestones

Home > About Ingrasys

Company Overview

Established in 2002, Ingrasys is a part of Foxconn Technology Group, has been focusing on fields of cloud computing application, network security, environment monitoring, power control, as well as data protection and has been a global leading developer in the network computing technologies.

Headquartered in Tao-Yuan, Taiwan with approximately 1,000 employees worldwide, Ingrasys provides a broad range customization services for intelligent network solutions. We have professional R&D team with over 340 experienced engineers specialized in software, hardware and mechanism, as well as system integration capabilities and commit to deliver breakthrough intelligent network solutions with excellent usability and reliability to our valuable customers for the fast-growing network computing environment.

Based upon our unique and innovative technology, we have received various awards and certifications and have become the trusted name in contrast manufacturing services (including OEM and ODM) in the world. During past decade, Ingrasys has maintained a steady growth on business and also affiliated with strategic partners in major territories worldwide, such as EU, U.S., Middle East, Australia, Asia, and Mainland China.

Awards and Certifications

- Best choice of Computex Taipei
- Taiwan Excellence Award
- EuroTrade
- TUV Certification
- ISO 9001:2008

