The Business Emergency Planning Association (BEPA) is a membership organization of the Cincinnati Area Chapter of the American Red Cross.

BEPA's mission is to help its member organizations and the greater Cincinnati community minimize the economic and human impact of business disasters and interruptions by understanding and applying effective business continuity planning practices.

BEPA is a consortium of businesses, organizations and business continuity and disaster planning specialists dedicated to ensuring that your company will continue operations at maximum possible efficiency following a disaster event.

BEPA offers educational and networking opportunities that will allow your organization to gather the knowledge and information it needs to effectively prevent, prepare for and respond to disasters efficiently and effectively.

"...Why bother? Disasters don't happen here."

Not true.

Disasters can happen anywhere, often with little or no warning.
