Advanced Execution Services® (AES®) helps over a thousand institutions and hedge funds reduce market impact, improve performance versus benchmarks, and add consistency to their trading process. The AES group provides Credit Suisse's award-winning suite of algorithmic trading strategies, tools, and analytics for global trading.

No matter where you are or how you trade, a single connection from your trading desk to AES will get you access to liquidity around the world.

AES has desks and development teams in New York, London, Tokyo, and Hong Kong for round-the-clock coverage from Monday morning in Australia until Friday evening in the US. Our algorithms are fully available in 40 nations on six continents. Algorithms are customized for each country by local teams of experienced traders and quantitative developers who understand the nuances and regulations of each market.
