KinderCare Education

At KinderCare Education, we make it our passion to nurture a sense of discovery, joy, and wonder in every child, every day, at every one of our centers. As the nation's leading private provider in accredited early childhood education, we're committed to delivering the highest-quality child care and educational opportunities for families and the dedicated professionals who serve them. We recognize the importance of encouraging curiosity, delight, and a fascination with the world in every child. We guide children on this road to discovery with our research-based standards. We see the greatness in each child, and we believe teachers can change the world. At KinderCare Education®, we believe the most powerful learning comes from a self-discovery process that actively engages a child's critical-thinking skills. Children are natural learners who flourish in a responsive environment centered on respect, creativity, and joy. We promote an environment that encourages independence and allows children the freedom needed to become capable and confident individuals.
