

Electronically Speaking, Gateway's Got It!

Since 1960

Chesterfield Mall - Lower level

Store #140 - entrance near Dock A
Southwest wing

Hours
Monday-Friday 9:00am-5:00pm
Saturday 9:00am - 5:00pm

Gateway Electronics

Established in 1960, Gateway Electronics is the go-to place for electronics enthusiasts, model railroad & train hobbyists, amateur radio operators (hams), robot builders, airplane fans, teachers, students, kit builders, programmers, mechanics, technicians and tinkerers. Games, gadget boards, audio/video, hardware, service tools, instant print, old time, young folks, and smart, tough, rugged dies who make electronic gear!

Do we really have a store? YES! We're in St. Louis, MO - we've got stacks of bins with little parts in them, shelves with old and new equipment, racks with wire and cable, and more. Our gurus have helped the counter to count you when you "let the smoke out of your project!"

Our recent move to Chesterfield Mall means that we'll be sticking around for a while - a brick and mortar store where you can see and touch the parts you want, bounce ideas off fellow shoppers, and exchange friendly banter with other electronics enthusiasts.

Get in Touch