

HOW FAR WOULD YOU GO FOR SOMETHING TO DRINK?

When two young couples venture into the desert for a sexy photo shoot, fun in the sun quickly turns into disaster after their car crashes into a ravine. Left with little water and without shelter, the couples are forced to ration supplies. As tensions rise, so does the heat in the isolated desert. Dehydrated, lost and hopeless, one by one the group begins to fall victim to the relentless elements. Miles away from civilization, suffering from delirium and dying of thirst, will anyone make it out alive?
