Careers In Nursing

Careers In Nursing

Nursing is ranked one of the top professions – Nurses are in high demand

- More than 1 million new and replacement nurses will be needed by 2012.
- Registered nursing is ranked as one of the top occupations through the year 2012*.
- More than 38,000 qualified students were turned away from U.S. nursing schools in 2006 (up from only 15,000 the previous year).

*Source: U.S. Department of Labor – based on job opportunities, income, career advancement, and overall job flexibility.

Nursing – A World of Career Opportunities!

Few careers in life offer the rewards, the stimulation and diverse opportunities of nursing. As a nurse, you have an unlimited choice of work environments ranging from a busy emergency room, clinic, hospital, surgicenter, school, physicians office, pediatric environment, military, research, legal, community service or corporate environment. By becoming a nurse – YOU can make the difference.

Building on its 120 year history, Chamberlain College of Nursing continues to be at the forefront of quality nursing education. It's our goal to not only prepare clinically proficient nursing professionals, but to take education one step further in helping students foster personal growth, career mobility, community service and leadership.
