A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A SEVENTEEN EDITOR

All participants on our New York City fashion teen tour will learn from Seventeen's editors to understand their vision, the magazine's visual direction, and the process of publishing an issue – assigning articles, selecting cover models and more.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT A SEVENTEEN PHOTO OR VIDEO SHOOT

From devising the initial concept to choosing the right photographers, models and stylists, learn how Seventeen creates a shoot, and get a sneak peek of what really goes into a fashion spread before it hits the stands by meeting staffers from the Bookings Director to Photo Editors.

THE MARKETING, SOCIAL MEDIA AND DIGITAL TEAMS

Get social with the Seventeen Marketing and Digital Teams. How have digital platforms allowed the magazine to go places it has never been before? How is online different from print? What are the unique ways they reach and interact with their audience online? Meet our digital editors, social media gurus, and online personalities featured in the pages of Seventeen.

FASHION CAMP HIGHLIGHTS

- Tour top fashion brand headquarters like Rampage, Champion, Chinese Laundry, Marilyn Monroe, Mignon and many more: See their showrooms, meet with fashion executives and understand the design process
- Go behind the scenes at a leading retailer
- Discover the amazing world of color forecasting from Cotton Incorporated and learn how designers select color palettes for upcoming seasons
- Meet with artists from CHI Haircare, and other hair and cosmetic companies, to learn techniques and tricks used when preparing for a photo shoot or runway show
- Learn about sustainable projects and collaborations in the fashion industry, like Cotton's Blue Jeans Go Green™ denim recycling initiative
- Interact with apparel, shoe, and accessory designers
- Hear from companies participating in NY Fashion Tech Lab to learn about how future technology will impact the fashion and retail industries
- Examine the world of Fashion PR with one of Hearst's Public Relations agencies
- Explore the Museum at the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT)
- Take a private tour through JCPenney's NY Design Building and learn how one season's collection comes to life from inspiration to design and production. Guided by the JCPenney team, program participants will then have the opportunity to team up and pull looks from the store to present a fashion story of their own!

HARBOR BOAT RIDE ABOARD THE BEAST

Experience a thrilling speedboat ride that zooms down the Hudson River at speeds up to 45 mph. Zoom within 100 feet of the Statue of Liberty to a rockin' soundtrack and with an awesome and fun interactive captain and crew.

THE NATIONAL SEPTEMBER 11 MEMORIAL & MUSEUM

Visit the beautifully designed museum and monument made to commemorate the past as well as inspire hope for the future. The site of Ground Zero draws millions of people and is a must-see to pay tribute when traveling to New York.

CONEY ISLAND

Visit this classic waterfront amusement destination with more than 50 rides and attractions, including the roller-coaster ride The Cyclone, circus shows, ice-skating, karaoke on the boardwalk, and fireworks on the beach. You are certain to have an awesome time savoring tasty foods and enjoying the parks many appeals.

SOUTH STREET SEAPORT

This active waterfront location nestled between the Brooklyn Bridge and the canyons of Wall Street is the gateway to Lower Manhattan's rich maritime history and cultural diversity. Experience exciting entertainment, unique shopping and dining, cultural activities, and much more.

SMORGASBURG & BROOKLYN FLEA MARKET

One of the most popular tourist destinations in Brooklyn, Smorgasburg has been called "The Woodstock of Eating" by The New York Times. Smorgasburg and Brooklyn Flea feature foods, beverages, and treats from over 100 vendors from New York City and across the region.

VISIT NEW YORK CITY'S MOST FAMOUS NEIGHBORHOODS & TOP PICKS FROM SEVENTEEN FOR FOOD AND EXPLORING

CHINATOWN

Taste the greatest assortment of Chinese delicacies you can imagine. Find the best dim sum spots, try specialty soups, and devour dumplings while exploring the many cultural and ethnic offerings of Chinatown.

THE HIGH LINE

A public park built on a historic freight rail line raised above the streets on Manhattan's West Side, it features expansive views of the Hudson River, art displays, open-air cafés, as well as numerous culinary delights. Distinct to The High Line are beautiful gardens and overlooks with water features lining the pathway of the park.

CHELSEA

Originally home to warehouses and non-operational railroads, Chelsea has transformed into a contemporary art district and hotspot of New York City, with highlights such as the Chelsea Market (an indoor marketplace and mecca for gourmet food lovers), and Chelsea Piers (a sports and entertainment complex on the waterfront, featuring a roller rink, an ice rink, and a bowling alley).

TIMES SQUARE AND MIDTOWN WEST

Midtown West is the largest business district in the United States. A melting pot of travel and culture, attractions include the Broadway Theater District, Times Square, The Time Warner Center (a luxury shopping complex), Museum of Modern Art, Bryant Park, and Madison Square Garden, a famous arena (home to notable events such as championship boxing, Rangers and Knicks games and concerts).

THE THEATER DISTRICT

The Theater District is the heart and soul of Midtown West, home to many Broadway theaters and other entertainment hotspots. The part of Broadway that runs through the Theater District is referred to as The Great White Way because of the many bright lights that have illuminated this area for over a century.

MEATPACKING DISTRICT

Don't be misled by its name: The Meatpacking District is a very trendy neighborhood in Manhattan. While retaining its historical importance as an industrial center, the district has transformed into a popular nightspot with late-night venues and eateries galore.

GREENWICH VILLAGE

One of the oldest and trendiest districts of New York, "the village," as it is referred to, has retained much of its charm and historic character over the years. At the center is Washington Square Park, serving as an unofficial quad for NYU students and a popular hang-out spot.

SOHO

A bustling neighborhood of Lower Manhattan with art galleries, exclusive boutiques, chic hotels, and stylish restaurants, SoHo is a hub for retail therapy, with a variety of luxury clothing stores, designers, and trendy bars and restaurants.

BROOKLYN

Brooklyn is home to many of New York's top attractions, including The Brooklyn Bridge, Brooklyn Botanic Garden in Prospect Park, Brooklyn Flea, Brooklyn Historical Society, and Coney Island.

LITTLE ITALY

Manhattan's Little Italy is a haven for family, tradition, community, and celebration along with culinary pleasures.

*Due to the varying nature of the fashion industry and production deadlines of companies and Seventeen, all highlights of the fashion summer program are subject to change
