Cultivation Consulting

We Help You Grow

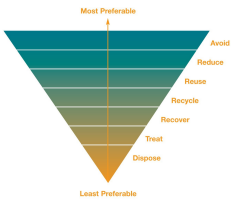

Our mission is to help farmers produce quality products, efficiently, while maintaining respect for the environment and the sustainability of our future.

Our Services

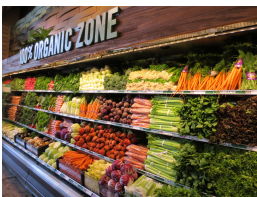

Crop Consulting

Organic or Hydroponic? Learn what practices and methodologies are best for your crops, the environment, and to meet the demand of consumers nationwide. Natural Pest Management? Let us show you how to implement sustainable, health plant management.

Environmental Planning

Compliance with local, state, and federal agencies? Nutrient and waste programs are a key element to complying with water, land use, and chemical regulations. Our dedicated staff can help you navigate compliance and certification programs.

Branding and Marketing

Distribution and building consumer trust are important to ensuring the longevity of your farm and its products. Retailers and consumers want access to brands they can trust, and Aquarius can show you how to establish and nurture these relationships.

Aquarius Cultivation Consulting offers free resources and publications to assist you with general questions. Please contact our Customer Service department for more information.
