More Information

The USANA Difference

Created for the unique transition of menopause, this naturally derived women's health supplement helps to ease common menopausal symptoms. Key ingredients red clover, soy isoflavones, flaxseed extract, and licorice root extract provide a gentle option for women who experience hot flashes and other uncomfortable symptoms associated with the fluctuation of hormones during menopause. The naturally derived botanical extracts offer symptomatic support while contributing to cardiovascular and bone health.*

Health Benefits

- Helps to provide gentle relief from commonly experienced menopausal symptoms including hot flashes, night sweats, and mood swings.*
- Provides phytoestrogens that communicate with estrogen receptors in the body to assist in well-being during menopausal activity*
- Formulated to help maintain healthy bone mass and heart health, common health concerns both during and after the transition into menopause*
- Supports the normal and healthy function of hormones in menopausal women*
